

MERGE STAPHYT - AGROSTAT

Following more than ten years of collaboration, Staphyt, Agrostat Germany and Agrostat Poland have decided to merge their operations and to bring together their areas of work and expertise. Their complementary structures and their business strategies in Europe led the three companies to join forces in the Staphyt group.

Over a period of 20 years, Staphyt and Agrostat have become European leaders in terms of quality, ability to respond to client needs and professionalism in the domain agricultural research.

This merger reinforces the expertise required for the management of your registration dossiers and the execution of your field programmes in Europe.

The teams that comprise Staphyt, Agrostat Germany and Agrostat Poland will continue to work together to provide and execute outstanding services.
